

AT OPERA OMAHA, WE WILL LISTEN MORE THAN WE SPEAK, BUT WILL NOT BE SILENT IN THE FACE OF INJUSTICE.

March 2021

We at Opera Omaha offer our support and stand with our friends, colleagues, and partners from the Asian American Pacific Islander communities experiencing escalating violence and hate. As we continue in our journey and education, we are committed to sharing resources with our community to fight against injustice.

June 2020

We join in mourning the murders of James Scurlock, George Floyd, Breonna Taylor, Ahmaud Arbery, Tony McDade and all those whose lives were taken by anti-Black violence and police brutality. We know that each transgression re-injures wounds that have never healed. To our Black community, we know that you are exhausted and recognize we will never fully understand the depth of your suffering. We know that part of your exhaustion comes from the heartbreak of our silence, inaction, and half measures. Please know that we stand ready to support you. We reject systemic racism, brutality, and White supremacy, and we will take your lead on how to use our power as culture-makers to end it.
